

Charlie Russell, Bear Man of Kamchatka

Community Forum
Friday, September 25th at 7pm
Education Students' Lounge
Main Floor, College of Education
University of Saskatchewan
Refreshments will be provided.

John Ranton McIntosh Visiting Scholar
Award 2009

Charlie Russell, an internationally renowned naturalist, educator, author and photographer, brings the pedagogy of storytelling alive with his powerful community forums. His imaginative and painstaking research on brown bears in Kamchatka, Russia, challenges dominant beliefs, ideologies and values regarding humanity's place in nature. Mr. Russell's spirit and stories inspire us to explore and rethink our place in the world.

Please join us in September to hear his stories and to explore the relationship between bears and humans.

For more information,
please contact Cameron at 290-0370

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN

College of Education

Department of Educational Foundations